Auditions for the BFA in Dance Performance are held in the spring semester of sophomore year.

1. Sign up for an audition time. Sign-ups will be posted in the Partridge Center at the beginning of the spring semester.
2. Prepare 2-5 minutes of original solo choreography. The piece should demonstrate your dance technique and your capabilities as a creative choreographic artist. The piece may be in any style, as long as it meets the assessment criteria, which includes: level III technique, artistry, choreographic skill, GPA, performance history, potential for success in a performing career in dance, and track record with the dance program. Wear appropriate dance attire.
3. On the day of the audition, bring a completed BFA in Dance Performance Application, which can be found on the Department of Dance website or at the Partridge Center with the audition sign-up sheet.
