Dear International Students,

When I arrived in the United States, on August 9, 1978, I was an international student with great ambitions and great enthusiasm, but a very poor understanding of the challenges I would be facing. Probably, my lack of understanding was what propelled me, and in a way it is true that ‘ignorance is bliss’.

Soon after my arrival, however, I realized that I had in front of me great uncertainties and great cultural obstacles, but even greater opportunities. I can now tell you that any sacrifice I made while a student at the University of Maryland has been repaid multiple times.

One of the things I learned, and that forms the core of my commitment (Chapman’s commitment) to international students, is that while I certainly benefited from being a student in the US, my host institution, the University of Maryland, also benefited greatly from my presence. I was an enthusiastic student, willing to share my cultural leanings, while at the same time eager to learn more about the history of the United States, and what made this country great. I was consistently one of the very best students in every class, because more than others I knew the incredible opportunity that was lying ahead of me.

Now that I have received my PhD, become a Professor, a Chair, a Dean, and now a Chancellor, I have not forgotten the importance of international students, nor have I forgotten the challenges they face. Chapman is committed to an increased number of foreign students attending our university, and we have strengthened the Office of Global Education, because the influx of foreign students is as important to our student body as the opportunities we give our American students to study abroad.

As you arrive to Chapman, I want you to know that you will find a community open to your arrival, eager to know you, to learn from you, and to teach you. During the first month of classes, I look forward to meeting you personally, and you will soon receive an invitation to join me and my family for dinner at my home.

I hope you will come, and will meet my wife (incidentally, she is American…another successful outcome of my educational experience in this country), and my many children.
Welcome to Chapman University.

Daniele C. Struppa, PhD
Chancellor, Chapman University

Chapman University

Hi everyone,

Welcome to Chapman University! You will quickly come to find that Chapman is a friendly community, with a growing international population. The university is constantly working towards providing helpful tools and fun activities for their students.

One of the many resources available to international students is the International Student Organization (ISO). The ISO brings Chapman students together to share in different cultures through social and recreational activities. Sometimes being so far from home can be difficult, so as a member of the ISO, you will be able to meet and connect with international students in similar situations. The club also brings together other students at the university who have studied abroad, or are simply interested in spending time with people from a variety of backgrounds.

This year we will have many exciting events for you to get involved in! For club members, we have bonfires, barbecues, and movie nights to give everyone the opportunity to socialize in a relaxing setting. We also participate in campus-wide events to spread awareness of global traditions. There are fun occasions, such as the International Food Fair and Around the World in Sixty minutes, where individuals or groups, from different countries, give short presentations in a variety of creative mediums. We are also interested in working with other cultural clubs to put on events such as Holi or Queens Day, so there will be no shortage of new experiences.

I hope you are all ready to start your adventure at Chapman! See you on campus!

Glossary

Before you begin, here’s a glossary that may help you as you read through this section:

i. GE – General Education

ii. Blackboard – A software used by Professors to communicate with students, have online discussions, and assign and collect assignments

iii. WebAdvisor – A software every person as Chapman University uses to access personal information, financial information, academic registration, transcripts, etc.

iv. Preferred List – A list of courses you can create prior to your actual registration date. You’re then able to express register them when your official date and time of class registration arrives.

The Undergraduate Catalog

It is strongly recommended that you refer to the Undergraduate Catalog available here:

http://www.chapman.edu/academics/catalogs.asp

Note You will continue to refer to the catalog year in which you were an incoming student as policies may change year to year. For E.g all incoming freshman in 2010 will refer to the 2010 Catalog year until their graduation regardless of the current year.

The Catalog is broken up by schools and colleges. For E.g A Business Administration major with an emphasis in International Business would find their section in the following manner:

i. Open the table of contents (left hand column)

ii. Expand the tab The George L. Argyros School of Business and Economics

iii. Click on Bachelor of Science in Business Administration

iv. Refer to courses in the section

v. Scroll down and refer to the “Emphasis in International Business”
Registration Process

You will register for your courses using a registration software called Web Advisor. Web Advisor has other important information regarding your academics and finances at Chapman. Please feel free to call Academic Advising at 714-744-7959.

Incoming Freshmen

All incoming freshmen have an advising requirement that must be fulfilled prior to course registration. Advising information will be mailed to new students in mid-May, at which time students can call the Academic Advising Center at 714-744-7959 to RSVP for a group advising session. Or they can complete online advising.

Advising Options

In person Advising: All students are encouraged to come to campus and meet with an advisor. Group advising workshops will be available for new students beginning June 16. In these sessions, we will review all of the necessary information for students to be able to register for courses: General Education program, first term courses for the major, math placement testing, foreign language requirement, and registration policies and procedures. Students will have the opportunity to meet both with a specialist advisor for their College and a peer advisor. Space in each workshop is limited in order to provide the best advising experience. Students must RSVP (see below for deadlines). To RSVP for a session, call the Academic Advising Center at 714-744-7959 (you may start calling JUNE 1.)

Note If you arrive more than 15 minutes late, you may be asked to reschedule your session! ARRIVE ON TIME!

Online Advising

An online tutorial will be available for those students who are out of the local area, or who are comfortable receiving important information in an electronic manner. The tutorial will cover all of the same information as the in-person workshops. Follow-up phone appointments with an advisor, or email options, will be available for students who have additional questions. The tutorial will be available for students starting June 1. http://www.chapman.edu/academics/advising/advisingTutorial/default.asp
Steps to Advising and Course Registration

1. Complete the math placement test if necessary. All students who have not been waived out of Math 98/99 based on SAT scores will be required to take the online math placement exam. You can check for Math 98/99 waivers on WebAdvisor through your program evaluation.

2. Select an advising method. If you select in-person advising, please call the Academic Advising Center at 714-744-7959 to RSVP for a workshop. Advising should be completed before your assigned registration date.

3. Determine your assigned registration date. You can view your assigned date and time by logging in to WebAdvisor, and clicking on “registration eligibility.” Registration dates are randomly assigned, and CANNOT BE CHANGED. You can register any time on or after your assigned date. Dates will be assigned and available on WebAdvisor starting June 2.

4. Review the first term courses for your major. You will receive a copy of these documents during your advising session (either in-person or online).

5. Select a math course. If you are placed in Math 98 or 99, it is required that you enroll in these courses in your first term, and that you complete these courses before the end of your first year at Chapman. If you place into Math 104 or GE Math, you are not required to take math in your first semester, although it is recommended.

6. Fill in the rest of your schedule with General Education courses. You can select courses from any area of the General Education program. More information will be provided in your advising session.

7. Build your preferred list in WebAdvisor. Step by step instructions will be provided in your advising session. You may also want to utilize the registration worksheet to aid in your planning.

8. Register for courses. All course registration is completed online through WebAdvisor, on or after the student’s assigned registration date and time. Students will not be able to register until the advising requirement is completed.
Incoming Transfer Students

1. Complete the math placement test if necessary. All students who did not complete a college-level mathematics course (above intermediate algebra) prior to transfer will be required to complete the online math placement test. You can check the status of your program evaluation through WebAdvisor. If you are required to take Math 98 or 99, and you do not enroll yourself in a course, you will be force-enrolled by the Office of the Chancellor.

2. Complete academic advising. Appointments with professional advisors will be available throughout the summer months. Please allow at least five days from the date you place your enrollment deposit before making an appointment with an advisor. This provides time for the Registrar's Office to update your program evaluation. Online advising will be available starting June 1.

3. Determine your assigned registration date. You can view your assigned date and time by logging in to WebAdvisor, and clicking on "registration eligibility." Registration dates are randomly assigned, and CANNOT BE CHANGED. You can register anytime on or after your assigned date. Available June 2.

4. Review your program evaluation and sample four-year plan. Your program evaluation is available through WebAdvisor. If you have not met with an advisor, you can use the program eval guide to assist you.

5. Build your preferred list in WebAdvisor. Step by step instructions are available. You may also want to utilize the registration worksheet to aid in your planning.

6. Register for courses. All course registration is completed online through WebAdvisor, on or after your assigned registration date and time.

Graduation Requirements

To receive a Chapman University diploma, students must earn 124 credits. If you were to divide this by four years it would come out to 31 credits a year. This means that you should be taking about 15 credits a semester. If you are unable to complete the 15 credits a semester you also have the option to take up to 4 credits during the interterm session, which is between the fall and spring semester. Interterm is at no additional cost and is already built in to your tuition.

Time expected for each course

You can expect to spend the same number of hours completing homework and assignments as you spend hours in the classroom. For example if you are taking a three credit course you can expect to spend three hours a week in the course and three hours a week completing homework and assignments for that course.
Course Load

During regular semesters students may enroll in up to 18 credits. Enrollment in 18.5 credits or more, including coursework concurrently enrolled at other institutions, requires at least a 3.000 Chapman grade point average, completion of a minimum of 15 credits of graded coursework at Chapman, and approval from an academic advisor. A maximum of 21 credits during a regular semester may be taken, including coursework concurrently enrolled at other institutions. Additional tuition is charged for registration in more than 18 credits taken at Chapman. During interterm sessions, students may take a maximum of four credits.

Note Any coursework taken at another institution placing a student in an overload status which is not reported may nullify standard transfer of credit policy. Contact the Office of the Registrar regarding concurrent course approval processes.

Students admitted provisionally or who are currently on Chapman Academic Probation may enroll in no more than a total of 14 credits per semester at Chapman and/or concurrently at other institutions.

Course Changes (Add/Drop, Withdrawal)

Add/Drop

Students may add or drop courses during the add/drop period stated in the academic calendar (see Academic Calendar section in the catalog) either via WebAdvisor or in person at the Office of the Registrar, depending upon course requirements or restrictions. Courses dropped during the add/drop period will not have a record of enrollment on the student’s academic transcript. Being placed by an instructor on the course roll does not constitute being officially registered for the course. Students can officially register only through WebAdvisor or at the Office of the Registrar. After the semester/term add deadline, students may not attend courses without being officially enrolled in the course.

Course Withdrawal

Students who officially withdraw from a course between the third and the tenth week of a regular term (see Academic Calendar for interterm and summer deadlines) will receive a “W” on their transcripts indicating the withdrawal. Students cannot drop a course after the tenth week of a regular semester (see Academic Calendar for interterm and summer deadlines). It is the student’s responsibility to officially withdraw from a course or all courses. Failure to attend a course does not constitute a withdrawal. Students who stop attending courses without officially withdrawing will receive a grade of “FW” (failure to withdraw) which is calculated as an “F” grade.

Administrative Drop

Students who do not attend the first class meeting of a course in which they are registered may be administratively dropped, unless they make arrangements with the instructor prior to the first day of class. Students should contact the instructor if a possible error has been made regarding an administrative drop.

Students dropping a course in the prescribed manner after the add/drop period and on or before the final day to withdraw from a course (as stated in the Academic Calendar section) will receive a “W” grade.

The “FW” grade is assigned to students who cease attending part way through the semester but who do not officially withdraw via WebAdvisor or the Office of the Registrar. “FW” is computed in the grade point average as an “F.” Students who take a course Pass/No Pass and cease attending part way through the semester and fail to officially withdraw will receive an “FW” grade.

Pass/No Pass

Undergraduates may take up to six semester credits per year on a Pass/No Pass basis, excluding interterm courses and courses offered only on a Pass/No Pass basis. Students should consult with the department chair regarding the choice of “P/NP” grading for courses in the major. Certain courses require letter grades only, while certain courses allow only Pass/No Pass as the grading option. Such restrictions are noted in the course description.

After initial registration in a course, in order to change the grading basis (e.g., to “P/NP”) students must submit a registration form to the Office of the Registrar by the end of the 10th week for fall and spring semesters (see Academic Calendar for corresponding dates for interterm and summer semesters). Changes in grading basis cannot be done via WebAdvisor. Once a course is graded students cannot request a change in grading option.

A student who satisfactorily completes a “P/NP” course will receive a “P” grade. Credit will be granted, however no grade points are assigned, and it is not computed in the grade point average. “P” grades are equivalent to a “C” grade or higher.

A grade of “NP” (no pass) will be given when the requirements for credit in the course have not been satisfied at the level of “C” or higher. “NP” grades are given for “C-” and below. No credit is granted, no grade points are assigned, and the “N/P” is not computed in the grade point average.

Students who take a course Pass/No Pass and cease attending part way through the semester and fail to officially withdraw from the course will receive an “FW” grade. “FW” is computed in the grade point average as an “F.”

Professors may alter grading requirements. Please see individual course syllabi to confirm their requirements.

Disabled Student Services

Students with disabilities may register with the university’s Disability Services Specialist for accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. It is the responsibility of the student requesting accommodations to make these needs known in a timely fashion and to provide recent documentation and evaluations as required. The granting of any accommodation will not be retroactive and cannot jeopardize the academic standards or integrity of the course. Services may include extended test time, note-takers, readers, advocacy, etc. Information about services, academic modifications or documentation requirements can be obtained from the Chapman website under “Student Services” or from the Office of Disabilities Services at 714-516–4520. For more detailed information, see the Services for Students with Disabilities Program and/or the non-discrimination policy in the general information section of this catalog.
To be a successful student, it is important to do more than study! Meeting new people, exploring Southern California, staying healthy and active, and participating in the campus community are critical parts of a student’s life. Research shows that students who get involved in extracurricular activities in college are more successful, graduate at higher rates, and have higher GPAs, so we hope you will find a way to get involved here at Chapman!

Many international students also find that meeting people and making friends can reduce the impact of cultural transition as you adjust to life at Chapman. As you begin to meet Chapman students, you may often need to take the first step to reach out and start a conversation, but you will find that many Chapman students welcome the opportunity to get to know you and learn about your culture. So, how do you start meeting people? See the many resources and opportunities available to you on the next page.

STUDENT TIP
After school has started there will be a student involvement fair where all the clubs on campus will have tables in the Piazza. Walk around and sign up for a few of them so that you can not only get involved on campus but also meet new people!

Explore Chapman’s Greek Life Sororities & Fraternities

Greek Life at Chapman University serves as a resource for anyone interested in the Greek community, and is committed to upholding and promoting the highest ideals of Greek organizations. The Greek community provides invaluable educational experiences that complement academic lessons, creating a true holistic educational environment for its members. Students involved in Greek organizations practically apply communication, management, financial, public relations, and project coordination theories on a consistent basis, while building friendships and networking connections that last a lifetime. However, Greek Life contributes to more than just those students involved in a fraternity or sorority.

Chapman’s Greek community donated more than 1,000 hours and $30,000 to local and national philanthropic causes in 2010-2011.

Many students at Chapman choose to have on jobs on campus as a way to get more involved as well as to have a source of income. As International Students who are not American Passport holders you are eligible for Non-work study or University funded employment. Many departments on campus have job openings at the beginning of each semester and by working on campus you are able to build your work schedule around your classes. The goal of the Student Employment Services is to enhance students’ experiential education through hands-on learning and work experiences in order to prepare them for post undergraduate and graduate career endeavors. On campus employment will also require you to obtain a Social Security number, information regarding this can be found on page… as well as from Susan Sams.

Chapman University’s online data base of on campus jobs makes it easy and convenient for a student to search through available job positions on campus in order to find what they are looking for! This data base and more information regarding on campus employment can be found here: https://chapman.peopleadmin.com/
As part of the enrollment process at Chapman University students are required to complete a Health Record and Immunization form. Please return the completed form to Susan Sams at:

How to Stay in Legal F-1 Visa Status

As an F-1 status student admitted to Chapman University in the United States you must meet certain obligations set by the US Immigration and Customs Enforcement. The general obligations are as follow:

1. Have a valid passport at all times.
2. Attend the school you are authorized to attend on your I-20.
3. Continue to carry a full course of study. A full course of study is to complete 12 units per semester for undergraduate or 9 units for graduates.
4. Leave the U.S within 60 days of anticipated completion date on your I-20, or, prior to that date, apply for a program extension.
5. Limit on-campus employment to a total of 20 hours per week while school is in session.
6. Refrain from off-campus employment unless it is an internship.
7. Report a change of residence within 10 days of the change.

Allowable Deviations from the full-course-of-study requirement

1. A valid medical excuse. A student who is compelled by temporary illness or other medical conditions to interrupt or reduce a full course of study is considered to be in status during the illness or other medical condition. A medical excuse must be submitted to your I.S.S.S coordinator.
2. Vacation. An F-1 Visa student is considered in status during the summer and winter sessions. Students are not required to attend the summer and winter sessions.
3. Valid academic reasons for enrolling less than full time. A student who is having academic difficulty should meet with his/her I.S.S.S Coordinator.
4. Undergraduates completing programs during the course term. An F-1 status student who needs fewer units to complete his or her program of study is considered to be pursuing a full course of study if the student enrolls in the number of credit hours necessary to complete the program in the final term.
5. Post-Completion practical training. A student on practical training following completion of studies is considered by USICE to be maintaining F-1 status.
6. Concurrent enrollment. An F-1 status student may enroll concurrently at another SEVIS approved college provided that through the combined enrollment, the student is enrolled in the equivalent of a full-course of study. The student must obtain permission from the I.S.S.S coordinator prior to enrolling at any other institution. It will be at the discretion of Chapman University to determine if concurrent enrollment at another college is necessary. Generally, approval is only granted if the course needed to meet the student’s academic goal is not offered at Chapman during the semester in question. The student must take the majority of classes at Chapman University; minimum of 9 units at Chapman and a maximum of 6 units at the other institution.
Consequences of being out-of-status

1. No verification letter stating you are in full-time status.
2. No employment on-campus or off-campus.
3. You may become ineligible for practical training.
4. You may have difficulty obtaining a renewal of your F-1 visa at the American Embassy or Consulate.
5. You may be barred from re-entering the U.S.
6. You may become ineligible to transfer to another University.
7. You risk possible deportation from the United States.
8. You might be denied an extension of stay or reinstatement from the United States Citizenship and Immigration Service.

How to regain legal F-1 visa status

If you fall out-of-status while attending the college, you may reinstate your F-1 status in the following ways.

1. A formal reinstatement request may be submitted to the USCIS requesting that the deviation from full-time status be approved. A student who has dropped below 12.0 units or 9.0 for graduates without permission will be terminated in the SEVIS system. In order to reinstate, the SEVIS record to “active” status, an application for reinstatement must be made. The student should meet with the I.S.S.S coordinator to discuss the reinstatement procedures. In most cases, a student who is in good academic standing and has maintained full-time status in previous semesters will be able to obtain the reinstatement. Once reinstated the student will again be eligible for benefits such as practical training.

NOTE Students who have been reinstated may find that the USCIS may cancel their F-1 visa stamp without prejudice. If the visa has been cancelled, students traveling outside of the United States will need to obtain a new F-1 visa stamp in order to re-enter the U.S.

2. An F-1 status student may travel outside of the United States with a new I-20 marked “initial attendance”. Upon re-entering the U.S, the student should present the I-20 to the Immigration Officer at the Port-of-Entry. The Immigration Officer will stamp the new I-20. The student is considered reinstated as of the date of the stamp. The student will need to re-establish the nine month eligibility for off-campus work permit or practical training benefits. A copy of the new I-20 and I-94 should be presented to the I.S.S.S coordinator to be placed in the student file.

*NOTE Students who need a new F-1 visa may have difficulty obtaining a renewal of the F-1 visa stamp. In addition, students who reinstate through travel may experience significant delays at the port of entry, whenever they travel to the U.S in the future.

3. If you fall out-of-status during the semester, you should see your I.S.S.S coordinator immediately to discuss your status. You may be able to take a short-term class and regain your full-time status.
Getting a Cell Phone

On arriving at Chapman University, one of the first things students do is organize their cell phone and service provider. Following are the service providers available in the vicinity of Chapman University:

1. AT&T - 125 S. Main St, Ste A, Orange
   714-538-5700
2. Verizon Wireless - 691 S. Main St, #80, Orange
   714-564-0050
3. Sprint - 1449 W. Chapman Ave, Orange
   714-385-1730
4. Boost Mobile - 4637 E. Chapman Ave, Orange
   714-997-0196

International students usually do not have a credit history in the USA. Therefore, some cell phone providers may charge a deposit of up to $500 to start your post-paid monthly plan.

Note We recommend you explore all options available including the pre-paid plan that they have. Unlike certain countries, cell phone providers in the USA may have fixed term contracts (e.g. two year contract).
Getting a California Driver’s License

1. Make an appointment for the written test. You can take a practice test and make appointments online at www.dmv.ca.gov. In addition, you may call 800-777-0133 for further information. Offices near Orange are: Santa Ana (the closest to Chapman University), Fullerton, Westminster, Costa Mesa, Laguna Hills.

2. Take all immigration documents (I-94, I-20, passport) when you go for your written test. The fee is approx. $35.00 cash. DMV does not accept credit cards, ATMs or checks.

3. After passing the written test, you will be given a temporary driver’s license. You have one more test to take which is the actual driving test. DMV will give you this information and you have to return for a second test. This driving test is with an authorized DMV examiner who will be in the car with you to determine your safety and driving skills.

Keep in mind that all drivers, international or American, must have liability insurance for their cars. It is required by law. If you have a new or valuable automobile, you should get additional coverage. It will be expensive because you are a non-immigrant and a new driver in California. You can purchase insurance online or see Susan for assistance.

Getting a Social Security Number

You can only apply for a social security card if you receive employment. Initially, you can only work on campus. Information about on-campus employment can be found at: www.chapman.edu/HR/SEO/overview.asp. After one academic year, you are eligible for paid internships that would allow you to work off-campus in a job relating to your field. After graduation, you are eligible for one year of full-time employment if you participate in Optional Practical Training (OPT).
