Appreciation Week

Every year the law school hosts Appreciation Week. This tradition is relatively new to the law school but it has quickly become one of our favorites. Everyone has busy lives with demands from school, work, family, and personal relationships pulling each of us in multiple directions. We often times forget to tell each other how important they are to our lives. This is an opportunity for the entire law school community, students, faculty, and staff to share our thanks and appreciation for each other.

Our Appreciation Week programming is:

- Appreciation Notes (all week in the lobby) (The law school community is encouraged to write a short note to the people in the law school showing their appreciation for each other. Notes will be delivered the following week. Students can find their notes in the student mail boxes located on the first floor student mail room, staff and faculty notes will delivered to their work mail boxes.)
- Coffee and Donuts in the Lobby (Tuesday morning)
- Finals Week Punch in the Lobby
- Complimentary Chair Massages (Thursday in the Lobby at lunch first come, first served)
- Final En Banc of the Year (Friday afternoon from 4:00 p.m. – 6:00 p.m., Western themed)
