

GRADUATE RESEARCH SALON

Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences

Film and Media Arts

Education

Law

Business and Economics

Science and Technology

Communication

Date: Wednesday, May 2, 2018

Time: 6:00pm-8:30pm

Location: Beckman 404

George Bush Conference Center

Keynote Speaker (6:30): Jack Horner, Presidential Fellow

“How to create a living dinosaur, and a glow in the dark, pink unicorn.”

Jack is a world renowned paleontologist working on the cutting edge of dinosaur research and most famous for discovering and naming Maiasaura, providing the first clear evidence that some dinosaurs cared for their young. Jack’s book, How to Build a Dinosaur: Extinction Doesn’t Have to be Forever, describes his plan to recreate a dinosaur by genetically ‘nudging’ the DNA of a chicken to develop a “chickenosaurus.” His idea for the project came from the film Jurassic World. He served as the technical advisor for all five Jurassic Park films, was the inspiration for one of the lead characters, and had a cameo role in the films. Currently, Jack is a Presidential Fellow at Chapman University where he teaches a class called “Thinking and Risk Taking from Outside the Box,” which is an introduction to challenging the status quo, evaluating preconceived ideas, risk taking, and dealing with failure.

Food and beverages

Student Poster Session: 6:00-8:30pm

3-Minute Thesis Talk Session: 7:00-8:15pm

What is a poster session?

- Showcase of graduate student research, scholarship and creative works

What is a 3MTalk?

- 3-Minute Thesis is a competition platform of graduate students explaining their research via a 3-minute talk More information available at chapman.edu/research/graduate-research
- Prizes ($1,000 & $500) awarded for top presenters

Why participate?

- Practice skills for presenting research, scholarship and creative works at professional conferences and for sharing your research with students and faculty

Eligibility?

- Doctoral and Masters students enrolled in Chapman University graduate programs are eligible to participate

Deadlines for Submission?

- Submit poster and talk abstracts here by Wednesday, April 18th, 5pm

For more information about submission and registration, visit Graduate Research Events at www.chapman.edu/research/graduate-research/