Pain of Silence

Andrew Carlson, Grade 8
St. Columban School, Garden Grove
Teacher: Lori Matsunaga
Survivor Testimony: Kurt Messerschmidt

Pain of Silence echoes the horrific memories of Kurt Messerschmidt on the Night of Broken Glass, Kristallnacht.

The fire of hope was always present in the heart of this survivor. With fire comes light, and light can lead us out of darkness. But hope can be ignored with silence. Silence diminishes hope.

Humanity prospers as one in unity, where branches link the roots of all. But, when one separates himself and forgets his roots, prosperity is restricted.

Do not underestimate silence. Silence roars at times of vulnerability. Silence echoes our faults. Silence harms.
