IV. New Business
   a. Paws Up!
      • Abby Tan: Copyright issues? Has this been addressed?
        1. There has not been research done as of right now.
      • Jacky Dang: This is really great, definitely some research needs to be done in terms of potential copyright issues.
      • Saba Amid: I think this unifying factor is something we really lack here at Chapman, this is a tangible experience we can all share. I also love the idea of having something physical on campus. We should also look into the connotation of the term “Paws Up!” just so we know it is being directly associated with Chapman and not another Uni.
      • Nelly Rouzrouch: I love this, this will give Chapman a sense of comradery. Signs and merchandise? Also, market this to the sports teams especially, this is usually the source of school pride.
        1. Definitely, we have a lot of big influential groups on Chapman’s campus in agreement with this initiative. This is something that can be marketed to our alumni and prospective students. There are a bunch of different ways in which this can be profitable for the university.
• Saba Amid: All I would advise you on is make sure there are no copyright issues.

• Harrison Lam: What is the importance of the statue?
  1. The main reason is so that there is a physical object that symbolizes the Paws Up, that people can take pictures in front of and market to others. Overall, the main reason is wanting to bring people together.

• Ishani Patel: How many people are working on this?
  1. It started off with just Dean Price and I, but then it expanded to the heads of the other departments, including the office of admissions and first year experience.

• Saba Amid: What can we do to help you?
  1. I definitely need some help in terms of feedback on the methods of publicity for this, or a physical statue.
    a. Summer Khatib: There are a lot of ways for us to publicize this. Tour guides, business cards, merchandise, signing your emails. If we own the statement, so will others.
    b. Ishani Patel: Marketing through Chapman U Instagram.
    c. Harrison Lam: From a PR standpoint, I would suggest starting with Greek life because they do have such a big influence on campus.
    d. Abbey Umali: I think it would make sense to do a big event to launch the phrase, so that it can be a big thing and have it be known by others. I think this would make things more effective, and make sure students are on board.
    e. Gabriella Corsino: What can we do to make people want to take pictures in front of statue? Maybe an interactive statue? This would encourage people to take pictures, thus publicizing. Similar to the Charles C. Chapman statue at the front of our campus.
    f. Philip Goodrich: I am on board, as it sounds like most of SGA is. Get that copyright checked out and set some goals. I would also suggest coming back to Senate, as we are always full of ideas.

• Philip Goodrich: With a group this big how do you plan to manage them?
  1. Summer Khatib: I will be in direct contact with them, we are all familiar with one another and everyone will be held accountable.

   c. Chapman Diversity Project Open Forum Presentation
      • It would be great if SGA could show their faces at these open forums. If you are interested in this task force, it would be really great if we could be present. I just wanted to present the diversity forums to you guys.
        1. Abby Tan: Just so you know, this is your external committee and I will be making a presentation on this in the coming weeks.
        2. Saba Amid: I have been on a number of these committee, and they are all really great.
        3. Philip Goodrich: What is the format of these committees?
           a. It really depends on each committee, for example mine meet bi-weekly.

V. Open Forum
   a. Nelly Rouzrouch: The K residents want water filtration systems.
      • Abby Tan: Talk to the Hall council before taking any action.
      • Saba Amid: I also would advise that everyone come to the executive board first so that we can advise you on past initiatives, etc.
   b. Philip Goodrich: Have we thought about an on-campus housing senator?
      • Summer Khatib: You can have committees outside of your committees.
   c. Karmen Pantoja: Storage initiatives?
      • This can probably wait until after our training.

VI. Announcements
   a. Polos will be coming after the new senators have been elected.
   b. Abby Tan: Training is next Saturday, 9AM-4PM. If you have a conflict, please let us know now.
   c. Abby Tan: You should all be in here by 1PM. Whether it be Senate Meeting, or a meeting with a dean. Please be 15 minutes early.
d. Saba Amid: We all need to be professional in this environment, and we want people to feel that when they walk into the room.

VII. Adjournment- 2:38PM
