IV. New Business
   a. Inductions
   b. Introductions
      • Year
      • Position
      • Why you joined SGA
   c. Cross-Cultural Center Room Remodel
      • We have got previous themes approved from senate, and we have had the support of other advisory boards. I am asking SGA 2020-2021 for recommendations for the Perseverance Room, the next room transition.
         1. Recommendations for this past year: Women, American Indian, Disabilities, Afro-LatinX identities. There is not one small or large identity that cannot be represented.
            a. Saba Amid: I think the ideas listed before are also all contenders for this year as well.
         2. Ultimately this is a student space, all of the content that is in there is chosen by those students here at Chapman.
         3. What do you want to see as the next identity and why?
i. Africana Identity. Would be a very good way to debut the minor as well.
ii. These spaces have a way of making you feel at home, and making you feel wanted on campus.

b. Abbey Umali: Disability Identity, 20% of Americans suffer from a disability and this carries over to Chapman.
c. Please email all of these suggestions topper@chapman.edu
d. Summer Khatib: What is the deadline for these submissions?
   i. We would like to have a finalist by the end of October.
e. Gabriella Corsino: What is the voting process like?
   i. Ultimately SGA were the ones who went out and discussed this with constituents and voted on this room.
f. Current identities that are being featured:
   i. LGBTQ+
   ii. Asian Pacific Islander
   iii. African American Identity
   iv. Middle Eastern Identity

V. Open Forum
   a. Jack Dang: Diversity task force minor! Two signatures away from being approved.
      • Ethnic studies activism
      • Race and ethnicity
      1. Majority of help needed with getting the word out about the major.
         a. We need all the senator help we can get!
      • Abigail Finnerty: When do official election announcements come out?
         1. Summer Khatib: They will be coming out after today, since it is now official, and you all have been sworn in.
         2. Harrison Lam: Send me your bio by Monday morning.
      • Gabriella Corsino: We are currently collecting anonymous statements from students who felt targeted by the hate speech around campus recently. Please email me any anonymous statements.
      • Matt Liner: Water refill station?
         1. Saba Amid: This is something that comes up every year, we can discuss this after.
         a. Open forum is a really good time to bring up initiatives
   b. Rodrigo Duran: How difficult is it to open another chapter of a club on this campus?
      • Karmen Pantoja: I can talk to you about this, but make sure you have a point of contact that ties the two organizations together.
   c. Jacky Dang: Are we going to reintroduce the community café facilitations?
      • What are community cafes?
1. Last years we used open forum dialogue between students in Dodge and Dodge faculty. These are being reintroduced for different colleges, we are doing facilitation training in order to help with these dialogues and relay information and initiate conversation between students and administration.

VI. Announcements
   a. Spring-elected Senators and Executive Council, make sure your Trello boards are set up and/or updated by 5:00 pm today
      • These boards are equivalent to your monthly reports, so this is mandatory. Send Abby (sgavicepresident@chapman.edu) a screenshot of your board when you are finished.
   b. Summer Khatib: Take down all your posters!! Tonight, by midnight or else you will be fined.
   c. Alex Ballard: Submit reimbursements requests for campaigning to engage.
   d. Saba Amid: Do your FERPA training, it is due on Monday.
