Cultural Appreciation, Appropriation, or Assimilation?

The Sikh Experience in America

Tuesday, October 11, 2022
7:00 – 8:00 p.m. with reception to follow

Location:
Wallace All Faiths Chapel, Fish Interfaith Center, Chapman University

Hybrid Option:
https://chapman.zoom.us/j/92616406467

Moderated by Dean Gail Stearns, Ph.D.

The stories we read, listen to, and tell influence how we see others, the world, and our place in it. The Sikh community has been the target of numerous hate crimes, but these events only partially define what it means to be a Sikh living in the United States. This conversation will challenge the notion of a single narrative, exploring the nuances of the multifaceted Sikh community and the role of cultural humility in story-telling.

Co-sponsor: Fish Interfaith Center

For more information on the Engaging the World series, scan the QR code or visit the link below

https://www.chapman.edu/wilkinson/about/events/etw-ethnicstudies.aspx

Special Guests

Manpreet Kalra
Social impact + equity advisor, anti-racism educator, writer and podcaster

Vishavjit Singh
TEDx speaker, illustrator, performance artist, storyteller, and creator www.Sikhtoons.com