

SEEKING FACULTY PARTICIPATION

FACULTY RESEARCH & CREATIVE SCHOLARS EXPO

- Faculty from ALL disciplines are welcome to share current scholarly research and creative activity with the student community. At this open house, each faculty member will have a platform to display recent publications, creative work, research posters, photos, and more.
- This event aims to showcase faculty engagement in scholarly activities beyond teaching, fostering interaction and potential collaborations with undergraduates interested in contributing to your research or creative projects.
- For your participation, you will receive a letter of recognition, which we encourage you to include in your annual review.
