

IMAGES AND IMAGININGS OF INTERNMENT

The Signing of Executive Order 9066 and the Japanese American Incarceration

WORKSHOP

Images and Imaginings of Internment: Comics and Illustrations of Camp

Monday May 8th
6pm—7:30pm

Orange Public Library, Community Room
407 E. Chapman Ave.
Orange, CA 92866

This workshop will include an overview of the website: IMAGES AND IMAGININGS OF INTERNMENT: COMICS AND ILLUSTRATIONS OF CAMP, a multimodal website intended to teach middle students and above about the Japanese American incarceration, its history, its inhabitants, and the social and political climate surrounding Executive Order 9066.

The workshop will include a step by step discussion of the educational aspects of the site from internment history to visual representations, to podcasts and stories on the website.

We will provide free educational materials to use with the website, as well as bibliographic handouts and open discussion with website and exhibition creators, Jan Osborn (Dept of English), Jessica Bocinski (Website designer, Escalette Collection) and Stephanie Takaragawa (Wilkinson College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences).

We will also have some book giveaways!
