Introducing the Summer Scholars Writers Retreat, an opportunity for up to 5 students to develop a writing practice focused on shared reading and writing in a communal living experience in Clancy, Montana. Natalie Goldberg argues, “if you want to become a good writer, you need to do three things. Read a lot, listen well and deeply, and write a lot.” The retreat is designed to give you the opportunity for all three while experiencing “Big Sky Country” with a group who wants to learn and have fun at the same time. Participating in this small-group experience will allow you to develop your craft in a writing community with a shared purpose.
