

Interdisciplinary Minor in CREATIVE AND CULTURAL INDUSTRIES

The Creative and Cultural Industries are radically reshaping the traditional arts, humanities, and social sciences through their unique prism of research and practice.

Graduating with a minor in CCI will position you competitively in multiple growing job markets both nationally and globally. Creative and critical thinking are regularly listed as some of the most desirable skills sought by employers today. Designed to be interdisciplinary by nature, the minor will equip you with analytical skills through rigorous classroom instruction that encourages students to breakdown education silos through research and work with peers and faculty from across campus. Practical experience is gained through internships with leading organizations across industries. CCI students have gone on to work in a wide range of careers including, film production, radio, sports marketing, publishing, fashion design and marketing, museums, as well as graduate studies.

For more information, please contact:

Professor Patrick Fuery
fuery@chapman.edu

or, contact your Academic Advisor.

A dynamic and fast-growing discipline, the study of CCI at Chapman examines a vast array of cultural and creative activities covering diverse topics, including media, fashion, tourism, museums and the gallery experience, publishing, video games, social media, emerging technologies, and visual cultures. This minor taught from local, national and global perspectives explores how such activities influence our understanding and experience of culture and the wider social, political, and economic implications of their development as industries.

LEARN MORE ABOUT THIS MINOR HERE!

