

ENGLISH

“Literature always anticipates life. It does not copy it but moulds it to its purpose.”

– Oscar Wilde

The mission of the Department of English is to engage students with the opportunity to apply their ideas and critical thinking skills in real-world situations. The department's four degree programs aim to foster creative and intellectually rigorous thinking, clear and original written expression of ideas, in-depth knowledge of cultural and literary traditions, and exploration of a variety of subject matter through reading and writing. The Department of English offers students innovative and personalized instruction as the basis for lifelong learning and literary citizenship.

Majoring and Minorin in Creative Writing or English

The Department of English at Chapman University encourages students to read widely and deeply, to write boldly and thoughtfully, and to engage in interdisciplinary scholarship and creative activity. Our English students and faculty explore and create the stories that shape our worlds. Undergraduate students may pursue a BFA in Creative Writing or a BA in English: either in literature, rhetoric, and cultural studies or in journalism.

INTEGRATED curriculum that requires students to take a variety of classes and present their original research senior year.

INTERDISCIPLINARY curriculum that allows students to explore a range of topics, methodologies, iconography, material culture, social history, gender studies, and ethnic studies within their general education core.

INDIVIDUAL mentorship and internship opportunities are available to students.

INTERNATIONAL opportunities are encouraged by studying abroad or taking travel courses in a student's sophomore or junior year.
