Trouble at Home
War Weariness, American Strategy, and the Meaning of Victory in the Pacific War

A Conversation with Bancroft Prize-Winning Historian Marc Gallicchio

Center for American War Letters, Leatherby Library

Wednesday, April 3rd, at 5:00pm

Marc Gallicchio is professor of history at Villanova University and co-author of Implacable Foes: War in the Pacific, 1944-1945. Sponsored by the MA Program in War and Society Studies, Leatherby Libraries, and Wilkinson College.