

Italian Studies Council Award for Cultural Entrepreneurship Up to $1500 awards for Chapman Students

This award is designed to support students' entrepreneurial projects that foster and apply their linguistic and cultural learning beyond the classroom. Examples of projects can be, but are not limited to: conference presentations, event organization, film productions, publications, the organization of community-service projects, organization of university-community events, and establishment of business collaborations.

Requirements

Complete project before graduation.

The project cannot be a class assignment receiving a grade (but it can build on coursework).

The project must represent Chapman University Italian Studies program.

Declared Italian Studies Minor or Major (preferred but not required)

How to Apply

Submit a 300-500 word proposal to Dr. Federico Pacchioni at pacchion@chapman.edu, along with the form below anytime during the year. The proposal should include descriptions of: the students' background, the project's aims and methods, how the outcomes will be demonstrated, and budget. Successful applicants will receive a letter including the amount of funds allocated for the project and clarifying deadlines and means of report. Funds will be provided in the form of reimbursement, upon submission of documentation (invoices, receipts, etc.).
