“My search for emancipatory knowledge over the years had made me realize that ideas are always communally wrought, not privately owned.”

– Chandra Talpade Mohanty

The mission of the Department of Sociology is to provide an intellectually grounded understanding of the social world through the development of skills and ideas rooted in scientific methods. The application of methodological, theoretical, and experiential training to the investigation of human relations and social problems furthers Chapman’s mission to provide personalized education of distinction that leads to inquiring, ethical and productive lives as global citizens.
Majoring and Minoring in Sociology

Sociology studies the interaction and relationships among human groups and institutions and how these relationships shape behavior. It examines how society maintains stability and how it changes, investigating both consensus and conflict among social groups. Sociology embodies the essential values of a liberal arts education in its emphasis on analysis and problem solving, comparative thinking, writing, and critical inquiry. In providing such skills, Sociology is a good background for teaching, medicine, social work, law, business, and social justice. Finally, Sociology provides the breadth of theoretical and methodological training for advanced graduate work in all the behavioral sciences.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS:

• Travel to present your research at an academic conference
• Volunteer with Underground Panthers to support students recently released from juvenile correctional facilities in pursuing higher education
• Join the Sociology club to make lasting connections with students in your program and engage the local community
• Become a research fellow for the Chapman Survey of American Fears

SAMPLE COURSES:

• SOC 231 Foundations of Criminal Justice
• SOC 316 Immigration in Southern California
• SOC 320 Sociology of Death
• SOC 370 Race & Ethnicity
• SOC 383 Sociology of Deviant Behavior
• SOC 385 Medical Sociology
• SOC 450 Postcolonial Women Writers
• ANTH 102 Cultural Anthropology
• ANTH 300 Queer Anthropology

Learn More

For more information on how to apply, please contact the Office of Admissions at admit@chapman.edu or (714) 997-6611.

To visit the sociology website, please scan the QR code: